Are you interested in joining the British Army? Perhaps you should be...

ARMY LIFE

The Army is different from most jobs. The people you work alongside aren't just your colleagues, they're your best mates. And you don't just get brilliant training and support, you get somewhere to call home.

Everybody who joins the Army is first and foremost a soldier. However, the army needs lots of different skills and, like all teams, it works by placing people in positions where they can make the best use of those skills.

COMBAT

Play a central role in major combat operations, but also get involved in peacekeeping and disaster relief.

ENGINEERING

You could find yourself repairing aircraft, building bridges or even setting up electrical supplies.

LOGISTICS & SUPPORT

Help make sure that soldiers have everything they need, when they need it, wherever they are in the world.

MEDICAL

Give vital medical care to soldiers and working animals, anywhere in the world.

INTELLIGENCE, COMMUNICATIONS & IT

When it comes to winning the battle, information, communications and modern IT are vital.

HR, FINANCE & SUPPORT

Could you be one of the human resources, finance, legal and education specialists?

MUSIC

Be the public face of the Army on State occasions, or play more modern music while entertaining troops on operations.

Remember that most jobs don't need you to already have the qualifications, just the right attitude to learning – everything else will be taught on the job.

DID YOU KNOW.....?

Every job in the Army offers the opportunity to progress to gain professional skills leading to higher qualifications, including full Bachelors and Masters Degrees. Technical Corps like the Royal Engineers or the Royal Electrical and Mechanical Engineers, will support you in gaining civilian qualifications. such as gaining Chartered Engineer status.

WHAT HAPPENS AS A REGULAR SOLDIER?

98% of soldiers enrol on an apprenticeship, making the Army one of the largest apprenticeship programmes in the UK. The courses are designed with other employers, ensuring the training is to industry standards and approved by the Institute for Apprenticeships and Technical Education.

WHAT HAPPENS AS A REGULAR OFFICER?

You can start your Army officer career at the age of 18 - you don't need a degree, just good A Levels or equivalents. You can gain a degree while serving as an officer and, if you're still in education, you might be interested in our scholarship and bursaries. These offer extra financial support while at school and university.
